2nd AIAA Evolution of Flight Campaign Art Contest “2102 . . LIFE IN SPACE”

Students from all over the world, ages 5-16, should depict their vision of Life in Space. Artwork should be based on the theme “2102 Life in Space.” Imagine that in 100 years, mankind is living in space. Show examples of what you think “Life in Space” would be like - what would your school or home look like, would cars or food be different, what would vacations be like, what kind of pets would you have, or even show how society has benefited by living in space. Use your imagination!

The winning artwork will be featured on the AIAA Evolution of Flight web site and may be included in other promotional materials, including a traveling display. Prizes will be awarded.

Entries must be on an 8-1/2" x 11" sheet of white paper (no computer generated or three-dimensional art is eligible).

Write your name and age on the front of your entry in the bottom right corner in black marker ink. Have your parent or guardian fill out and sign the AIAA Entry/Parental Contest form and mail the entire package to:

Attn: Kimberly Grant
1801 Alexander Bell Drive, Suite 500
